Proposed Amendment:

A hair fastener for use in styling hair of a human being comprising: a zigzag member having a series of substantially sharp angles spread out in alternate directions; each zigzag is rigid and has a first side and a second side; each said first side is bent in an opposite direction from said second side creating a substantial space between each said first side and each said second side;

and, a bobby pin integrally formed at each end of said zigzag member; whereby, said hair fastener is placed into a section of hair to secure.

Also, for the Divisional (App. 10/133,067) What do you think about saying?:

each clip is attached to the next by an edge portion (since there are two edge portions and it could be attached to either to work)

Thanks!
